satily, apparently sleeping well. His sister, Mrs Thompson, of Atlanta, has errived and is with him.

A dispatch received at this office at o'clock this evening states that Mr Marve continues to improve.

K. of P .- At the regular meeting of at their hell on north Pitt street last night, the following officers were installed by D. G. C., G. W. Bontz: C. C. L. D. Sullivae 5th term; V. C., E. C. Roisne; P., V., C. Moore; M. of W., R. N. Rotand; K. of R. and S., E. R. Boyet; M. of F., Coss. M. Hawcek; M. of E. G. W. Bontz: M. of A. C. R. Herber; I. G., E. L. Crump; O. G., J. M. Wells; Trustee, V. C. Moore. Excest R. Boyer, was elected representative to the Grand Lodge of Virginia which convenes in Richmond February 18 h. Two applications for Feburary 18 h. Two applications for reinstatement were received and socepted, and one application for mem-bership was referred to a committee. Mechanics' Lodge is now next to the cldest lodge in the State, Alexandria Lodge, No. 1, having sur-endered its charter in 1865, only a few months after its organization.

EXHAUSTED OYSTER SUPPLY.-The supply of oysters in Alexandria is about exhausted and dealers are experiencing difficulty in filling orders. No boats have arrived here for nearly two weeks, and those engaged in the business are compelled to obtain limited supplies from the steamboa's or in Baltimore. A dearth is also reported in the latter place and prices there in the request cannot be complied with range from 80 cents to $1 a bushel, and even at these rates suitable supplies are hard to obtain. The recent unpropitious weather and ice bave almost suspended operations in the creeks on the lower river and but few ovaters are is done it duty is performed, and solower river and but few oysters are being caught. In a little while, how-ever, work will be resumed and the ever, work will be resumed and the supply of bivalves will be sufficient for right to incur the expense of the same.

UNITED STATES COURT .- Judge E !mund Waddill, of the United State-court for the eastern district of Virginia, will open the January term of court Tuesday, the 7th instant. The date set for the opening was the 6th in-stant, but the jurors will not be restant, but the jurors will not be required to report until the next day in order to avoid the necessity of traveling on Sunday, many of them living at a distance. At this term, the case of Wm. F. Webster, charged with sending obscene letters through the mail. will come up for trial, but as his attorney, Capt. Mushbach, died since the may be had.

JACKSON CITY.—It is now said that the residents of Jackson City, at the south end of the Long Bridge, have no intention of folding their tents and no intention of folding their tente and quitting that locality, and that houses are being built on the east side of the railroad tracks, those on the west be-ing in process of demolition for railway Those who have for years purposes. Those who have for years conducted business there imagine with a new and modern bridge the Virginia approach will make that neighborhood of more importance than formerly, and following the instincts of the late Edwin M. Stanton, have concluded to MAINTAINING ITS REPUTATION .- A in by-gone years fried oysters to such nicety that the city gained a reputatio for preparing this tempting dish, and people from other places who visited Alexandria regarded it as part of the trip to seek the famous hostelry and enjoy one of the "fries." It seems that the city still holds its own in this respect. Y-sterday a gentleman from Boston indulged in the dish at one of the restaurants, and was so please. with it that he ordered two dozen and a helf which he took home with him.

Thomas C. Kell, son of the late Is at Keil, died in Washington yesterday at tergoon. The deceased was born and raised in Alexandria, but for several years had lived in Washington where he had been engaged in business. Jovisi and companionable, Mr. Kell had many friends and acquaintances both in this city and Washington, all of whom will regret to learn of his death. While a resident of the capital city, he made frequent visits to his old home where was always warmly welcomed.

NEARING COMPLETION .- Messrs. Cavillier and Weadon have almost com-pleted the vitrified brick roadway and curbing on Fairfax street from King to Printers' Alley, which has greatly improved that portion of the square. It is said that the work will probably be continued to Duke street during the coming summer.

POLICE COURT .- For the fourth consecutive day there have been no cases on the docket of the Police Court. The members of the force who patrol the city day and night report nothing outside of the ordinary. This is a happy sinte of affairs and may be the fruits of new year's resolves.

Bince the power of the state of the condition of the patient has been conscious and rested large of the city, and the very department of the patient has been conscious and has for some time past been seriously ill, is rapidly recovering.

Mr. Lee Genzberger, who was recently operated upon for cancer of the intestines at a Georgetown hospital, is said to be improving considerably.

Miss Mary Powell, of this city, is in Lee-burg the guest of her cousin, Mrs.

Louis Powell.

Mr. Jao. A. Marshall last night hand-wo weeks, is not so favorable today.

Mrs. J. H. Wilson and children will leave here this evening for Portsmouth, where her husband has recently been appointed to a position in the clerical department of the navy yard. Mr. Wilson and his family made many friends during their residence in this city.

The condition of Mr. Carey Davis, who was paralyzed a day or two ago, continues unchanged

ANOTHER REMINDER. - Notwith standing the notice which has appeared in each edition of the Gazette for many years to the effect that resolutions of respect to deceased persons, memorials &c., are regarded as legitimate advertising matter, such productions are constantly sent to this office with the request that they be published gratuitously. THE GAZETTE .- On the first of January the Alexandria Gazette completed the 1021 year of its existence with all the 1021 year of its existence with all the enterprise and vigor of a young clant. It has witnessed, during its long life, many great and important changes, some of which have been beneficial and some otherwise, but the Gazette has steadily pursued its course, advocating the right as it understood the right with a course and conthe right, with a courage and con-sistency that commanded the respect of all. May it live to celebrate the beginning of another century, at which ime the Fairfax Herald will again be set to court a postponement glad to extend its most cordial good wishes for the continued prosperity of of its most valued exchanges .-[Fairfax Herald.

> SUIT FOR A DIVORCE.-Mrs. Ids E. L. Tyler, whose husband, William B Tyler, is said to come of a wealthy Baltimore family, has begun a suit in New York against him for separation. Mr and Mrs. Tyler, after their mar-riage, lived in Fredericksou g and in Alexandria, and she says in her complaint that her life in Virginia was not at all happy. One of the acts of cruelty complained of is that Tyler threw a whole plate of turkey across the dinner table at her because she was ill and and asked for a choice cut. Subse quently she accused him of having o aten her, and of threatening to shoot

> DEATH OF A CLERGYMAN. - Rav. Junn Wesley Beach, D. D., LL. D., for-merly president of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., died on Wedner-lay last. The deceased was the elder and only brother of the late S. Ferguyears old and was a prominent ministe of the Methodist Episcopai Church dur-ing the greater portion of his life. He leaves a widow and six children.

DIAMOND RECOVERED -Mr. Harry Fielecomenn, of this city, lost a five-nundred dollar diamond from his scar pin in Washington yesterday. He at first supposed it had been stolen while ne was on a street car on his way to the electric railway station. This morning the gem was found by Conductor Win. Vernon of the electric railway. It was found lying in the gutter in front of the station in Washington.
